

HALLELUJAH

Once upon a midnight clear
I heard a song that drew my tears
By a fallen sage who named it Hallelujah

The notes they lifted me on high
I aimed my gaze up to the sky
And searched it far and wide for Hallelujah

Hallelujah

Hallelujah

Hallelujah

Hallelujah

At times my life's been filled with pain
The sobs the tears they fell like rain
I sought the thing they said will always sooth ya

That perfect voice, that perfect song
The liltin' notes they do no wrong
And guide you to the place called Hallelujah

Hallelujah

Hallelujah

Hallelujah

Hallelujah

Your father son your Holy Ghost
But I pray a different way than most
Unorthodox perhaps compared to you yeah

The chorale still resonates inside
And touches me deep, I cannot deny
A sentiment that bleeds like hallelujah

Hallelujah

Hallelujah

Hallelujah

Hallelujah

So often I have been dethroned
And karma's sliced me to the bone
Classified my actions of a fool yeah

I own the falls that I create
The architect of my own fate
That sacrificed my chance for hallelujah

Hallelujah

Hallelujah

Hallelujah

Hallelujah

Know I tried to right the wrongs
Expecting no redemption song
Abiding by the universal truth yeah

Warriors and Guardians fall
All for one and one for all
We serve and we protect for hallelujah

Hallelujah

Hallelujah

Hallelujah

Hallelujah

Four fives how the bell will toll
And twenty-one rounds to save my soul
And signal to the world that I am thru ya

The price I paid to heed the call
But the honor brick shall never spall
As long as contains a hallelujah

Hallelujah

Hallelujah

Hallelujah

Hallelujah

So weep for me until you're done
Cause better days they soon will come
Grieve until you're filled with Hallelujah

An exit from the space of pain
No sad farewell we'll meet again
Reunified in time for hallelujah

Hallelujah

Hallelujah

Hallelujah

Hallelujah

....

Music © 1984 Leonard Cohen
Lyrics © 2018 adam armstrong north america